ENTERPRISE IN ALEXANDRIA. -The rene wal of a commercial enterprise by Messrs. Thornton & Davidson, of Alexandria, the importance of which to the future prosperity of that eity cannot be over-estimated, was recently made the occasion of a social reunion among a number of the prominent business men of Washington, who visited our neighboring city at the invitation of these gentlemen, to inaugurate the cstablishment of direct commercial relations with France. This firm have chartered the French bark Ferriere, and have shipped to Calais on the first voyage sixty thousand cubic feet of ship timber, and nearly a million feet, superficial measure. The vessel is as staunch a craft as ever visited our waters, and was originally built for the Rothschilds, but is now owned by Richard De Walley, of Calais. In her construction neither pains nor expense were spared, and every part bears evidence of the skill of master workmen. She is classed as a square rigged bark, of fourteen hundred tons burden. The presence of such a vessel at the port of Alexandria may well awaken the pride of the people of that city; and the fact that she is to be permanently engaged in the European trade, opening direct communication with France, will be cheering intelligence to the merchants of the District. Besides her freight capacity, the cabin has eight first class state rooms, with accommodation for eighteen passengers, not in ferior in any respect to those of the ocean

It is expected she will make four round voyages every year, returning laden with sait, iron, and general merchandise.

After the party had inspected the bark, they repaired to the Tennyson House, Alexandria. where a substantial dinner had been provided for the occasion. Here an hour was pleasantly passed, and the enterprise of Messrs. Thoroton & Davidson received the highest approbation of the gentlemen present.-Nat. Intelligencer. The Ferriere has cleared, and will sail tomorrow morning. One of the crew, who had his skull accidentally fractured some time since. has recovered and will return to France in her.

ABDUCTION CASE.—The case of Harry Sackett, son of Mrs. General Sackett, residing at Springdale, in this county, charged with abducting a young girl of Washington, some sixteen years of age, and eloping with her to a locality near this city, came up for a hearing yesterday afternoon before a Justice's Court in Washington. All parties were present, but real estate agents, sold yesterday the house the friends of the girl not desiring to prose cute the case further, it was dismissed .-The learned justice was of the opinion that the warrant for the arrest of the young man was not correct, from the fact that he was named in it as "Harry" Sackett. The justice contended with an official present that Harry was a nickname for Henry, and though he were christened Harry, it was nevertheless wrong, and a warrant was not legal-so says the Washington Chronicle.

THE CANAL BREAK .- The break in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, about twenty miles this side of Cumberland, has already been noticed in the Gazette. The break is two or three miles west of the tunnel, and measures at least ninety feet in length and fifteen feet in depth. A large number of laborers were at once set to work, and a telegraphic dispatch from Cumberland says the repairs will be completed by Saturday next. A considerable fleet of loaded boats has collected above the break, ready to come through as soon as the water is turned on.

be interrupted for about four days in consequence of this break.

COAL TRADE .-- There were shipped from Cumberland, during the week ending September 5th, to tide water, by the Chesapcake and Ohio and Alexandria Canals, 16,034.12 tons of coal, by the following companies:

Howe Truss Bridge.—The railroad bridge to cross the Shenandoah river, just beyond Timberville, on the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad, is in process of construction in this city, and will soon be framed and ready for erection. The timber of which it is being built was brought here on the cars of the company direct from Wrightsville, Pennsylvania, where white pine grows to perfection. The work will consist of two long spans.

CATHOLIC EXCURSION.—The catholic excursion to the White House, from Washington, took place this morning. The steamer Express carrying it did not, however, stop here, and several from this city, who were to have accompanied it, and were on the wharf when the Express passed, were considerably disappointed in consequence.

ARREST OF HORSE THIEVES .- Sandy Travis and Henry Red, two colored men well known to the police officers of this city, were arrested in Washington day before yesterday, charged with stealing two mules from a gentleman residing near Orleans, in Fauquier county, Virginia. They were committed to jail for further WHOLESALE!

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

Troubles in Alaska. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. -Gen. Halleck furnishes reliable information in regard to existing abuses in Alaska, which were made the subject of special investigation during his recent visit to the territory. Much dissatisfaction among the regime people are thrown upon their own resources and do not yet understand the change.

The immediate introduction of a number of strange white traders, adventurers and soldiers, had a bad effect upon the semi-civilized community of Alaska; as the habits of the new comers and their method of civilizing the natives often take the form of instructing them in vice. Gen. Halleek did not find it necessary to court-martial any officer, although many changes will take place before matters will work smoothly.

The military have been instructed to make no difference between traders, but are to treat all alike. Gen. Halleck has taken steps to inform the natives around the principal ports of the true standing of affairs.

The Indian Troubles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10 .- Late Idaho advices state hat a scouting party from Fort Boise had succeeded in capturing Eagle Eye and his entire band of Indians, forty-one in number, twenty one horses and a large quantity of provisions. This ends the Indian hostilities in that section of country. Gen. Crook writes from camp Warner that he found many Indians in Big Valley on Pitt river, most of whom fled at his approach. He had a talk with the principal men, who confessed that a party of Pitt river Indians murdered the Pierson family in Long Valley, Nevada .-Gen. Crook ordered the arrest and hanging of the murderers, which, it was thought, would have the effect of preventing any more such outrages.

The Indian troubles are considered over in that vicinity.

Bands of savages are continually coming in at the different stations and surrendering. Most of them are in a starying condition, and greatly in need of assistance from the Govornment
